AYLAK MUTFAK

TRAMP KITCHEN

PROJECT SNAPSHOT

A movement for common, sustainable and equitable food

Tramp Kitchen / Aylak Mutfak · Actors of Urban Change

zeytince.org

About the project

Tramp Kitchen is an urban movement examining the seed-to-table food cycle in search of a shared, equitable food ecosystem. It started within the Actors of Urban Change programme of MitOst and Robert Bosch Stiftung.

Through talks, workshops and shared tables, it brings together the city's food story: producers, markets, kitchens and tables.

KEY FACTS

PROGRAMME
Actors of Urban Change

SUPPORTERS
MitOst, Robert Bosch Stiftung

FOCUS
Common, sustainable and equitable food

INSTAGRAM
@trampkitchen

WHAT IT DID

- Aylak Library and Aylak Dictionary: a shared library and glossary on food and climate
- Earth Day talk on 22 April
- Earth Flavours of the Mediterranean talks: wild greens, tomatoes
- From Uprooting to Gathering: a foraging and shared table workshop at Olive Academy

An urban movement questioning food's journey from seed to table and seeking a shared, fair food ecosystem.

instagram.com/trampkitchen